Radical Love: Awakened Relationships and Natural Leadership

Prelims – Title page, Imprint page, Dedication, Foreword, Contents

PART I INTRODUCTION

Chapter 1 Introduction to Radical Love

STORY: Connection² and the search for what works (e.g. The search for the missing mitten)

PICS: portraits

- 1) Who is Radical Love?
 - (a) Biographies of Judith and Melissa (up to Radical Love)
 - (b) Judith and Melissa's meeting – study, conversations over the last seven years, collaboration ...
- 2) Why the Radical Love Foundation was formed
 - (a) Our promise: the end of abuse starting with ourselves
 - (i) What we mean by "abuse"
 - (b) How dare we make such a promise?
 - (c) The benefits of Radical Love – creating a future that would have not occurred otherwise

Exercise:³ (Meditation) – Using our Creativity and imagination to create a Future that would not have occurred otherwise
- 3) Radical Love Foundation
 - (a) What "radical love" means
 - (i) "Radical" – at the root
 - (ii) "Love" – what we are made of, our true Self/Nature
 - (iii) Clarity is the context
 - (iv) "Within Nothingness, there is a Road" (Wumen Hukai)

¹ Abbreviations: CFS = Choices for success; RLIW = Radical Love Identity Workshop manual August 2012); TPG = Top Performer's Guide to Leadership

² Stories to start at least each major section – also use dialogue from a video/audio transcription (on the online version these could be linked to audio or video as well) – the idea is to have as much personal narrative as possible. The Radical Love staff and community could also be invited to contribute anecdotes

³ Exercises to be written for personal and natural leadership uses – modified questions for different users but as generic as possible

- (b) Our Purpose, Vision and Mission
 - See clearly. Live passionately. Love radically
- (c) Living courageously – “Commitment = Courage + Doubt + Action”
- (d) Always for the benefit of all

Chapter 2 The Radical Love Model: the Six Guiding Principles

Graphic of the Model

- 1) The Radical Love model
 - (i) Represents a hologram – a three-dimensional association of principles
 - (ii) Together these principles when practiced create the experience of Radical Love
 - (iii) Clarity is the indefinable universal experience
- 2) Six competencies in clarity
 - (a) Not a linear sequence of Principles but Personal responsibility is placed at the centre – required to achieve results
 - (b) Mastery of each competency brings results
 - (i) Personal Responsibility – trust in life itself
 - (ii) Knowing Our Self – natural wisdom, natural authority, and natural ethics
 - (iii) Being Authentic – freedom and synergy
 - (iv) Honoring Our Word – integrity
 - (v) Sharing Direct Experience – oneness and unity
 - (vi) Applying Skillful Means – wholeness
- 3) Radical Love teachings: Authentic Relationships and Natural Leadership
 - (a) One book of core principles, different orientations
 - (b) Offerings – a practising community, programs,

PART II FOUNDATIONS OF RADICAL LOVE

Chapter 3 Unconditioned Awareness/Clarity

- 1) A Universal Experience of Religious ("Wisdom") Traditions
 - (a) Buddhism, Kabbalah, Christianity, Tao (?), Hinduism (Advaita Vedanta), Non-dual – (quotations from each tradition?)
- 2) What do we mean by Unconditioned Awareness?
 - (i) Experienced but cannot be described
 - (ii) Transmitted and content-free: not reasoned or taught
 - (iii) Everywhere and "no-where"
 - (iv) Everything and "no-thing"
 - (v) Love, True Self and Unconditioned Awareness
- 3) Living in Unconditioned Awareness

Story: Personal experiences (e.g. Judith's Blocks Game story – from CFS Blocks Game)

 - (a) "One consciousness" of unity – no separation
 - (b) Just "This" is the "ultimate medicine"
 - (i) The end of suffering
 - (c) All points of view are equal and dissolve in clarity
 - (i) No "right" and "wrong" and what we "know"

Exercise: Meditation – A Taste of the Unconditioned (Accessing Clarity (?) / "Natural contemplation" – Peter Fenner?)

Chapter 4 Transformation

- STORY: Personal experiences of transformation compared to therapy
- 1) "This" is not Therapy
 - 2) The mind is an open system: dissonance to free choice
 - (a) The science of transformation (from the theory of dissipative structures – the idea of an open system – Prigogine? and RLIW – Katchalsky)
 - 3) Free Choice: A Radical Skill Set for Humanity (RLIW)
 - (a) Our definition of Free Choice
 - 4) Radical Love transformation – stepping out to clarity

Exercise: Looking back from a future to the present – what needs to occur to create a future that would not have occurred otherwise

PART III LIVING RADICAL LOVE

A) SEEING CLEARLY⁴

Chapter 5 Knowing Our Self⁵: Guiding Principle⁶

STORY:

- 1) The Conditioned Self and Our True Self (Our true nature)
 - (a) Our true nature: Being human
 - (b) The body is the receiver of experience
 - (c) The mind is the interpreter – the conditioned mind (how this happens/works – scientific evidence)

Exercise:

- (d) The body–mind (Candace Pert’s work)
 - (e) Benefits of Understanding our true nature include: reliance of clarity for everyday life situations, fearlessness in relationship, appreciation of our human nature
- 2) Our life story: our unique conditioned identity

STORY:

- (a) Identity (from RL workbook 2012)
 - (i) Birth, childhood, ancestral lineage
- PICS: could also be from participants
- Exercise: Describe yourself as a child (or a significant incident in your life), explaining how you became who you are today (or how it happened) ...
- STORY: personal; business as personal (acting out the family on the job)
- 3) How life occurs or “shows up” for us

STORY: Interpretation to sensation – simplifying the story

- (a) Sensations to feelings
 - (b) Feelings
 - (c) Patterns
 - (d) Beliefs
 - (e) Interpretation and illusion

Exercise: Read over your description in the previous exercise: can you see patterns, beliefs or interpretations?

⁴ This Part is divided into two sections: A) Seeing clearly; and B) Living passionately and Loving radically – it might be too rigid a division – the headings can just be removed

⁵ Put this first as it’s easy to relate to and provides material to refer back to in the exercises

⁶ Added “Guiding Principle” to the chapter headings that are about that guiding principle

- 4) Assuming innocence: seeing through conditioning
 - STORY: Seeing and experiencing conditioning as innocent
 - (a) On automatic pilot – conditioning
 - (b) Benefits of Assuming innocence include: open-hearted compassion; living joyfully; closeness and intimacy in everyday life; acceptance of “what is”; trusting your direct experience

- 5) Wellbeing
 - STORY: Looking after our whole self
 - (a) Our bodies – food and eating; dis-ease; fitness and exercise; sexuality and perversions; the Recipe for Ecstatic Sex (update from Choices)
 - (b) Natural gifts and talents
 - Exercise: Identifying our natural gifts and talents
 - (c) Living our life purpose, vision and mission
 - Exercise: Meditation: Finding purpose, vision and mission
 - (d) Benefits of Wellbeing include: healthy, authentic living; natural curiosity, living a beneficial life

- 6) Knowing our Self: Into-Me-See
 - STORY: Personal “aha” moments

Chapter 6 Personal Response-ability: Guiding Principle

- 1) We are our results: we are response-able
 - STORY: Personal response-ability moments
 - (a) Definition: When we are the source of our experience (cause in the matter), we are able to respond in the present moment with unlimited options always for the benefit of all
- 2) Living in the present moment
- 3) Reaction: Our default response
 - STORY:
 - (a) A cover-up for the real thing (from RLIW)
 - (b) Recognising reaction
 - (i) Acting the way we have ended up (acting out)
 - (ii) Judgment
 - Exercise: Who and what do you judge?
 - (iii) Projection (e.g. p. 17 RLIW)
 - Exercise: My projections (pp. 18–19 RLIW) and Rescuing your birthright and authority

(iv) Blame and self blame

Exercise: Write a list of "I am ... because" (CFS)

(c) Applying Skillful Means: Guiding Principle⁷

(i) Seeing through our reaction

STORY:

- Reactions are goldmines, feelings are the gold (RLIW)
- Methods: FAVOR, or Stop, Look, Listen and Act (RLIW)
- Benefits of seeing through our reaction include: thinning our habitual conditioning; eliminating either/or

B) LIVING PASSIONATELY and LOVING RADICALLY

(i) Access to maximum aliveness – integrity and authenticity⁸

Chapter 7 Honoring Our Word: Guiding Principle

1) Integrity

STORY:

(a) Keeping and honoring our word (Timely communication)

(b) Benefits of Keeping and honoring our word include: integrity, flexibility, clear mind, being complete and whole, care-free life experience

Exercise: Completion – think of when you have not kept or honored your word. Make a list and complete each one. Notice how you feel before, during and after.

2) Congruence: words and actions match

3) Communication in relationship: everyday clarity

(a) Benefits of Everyday clarity include: self-respect, natural wisdom, common sense

4) Free choice: the good of the whole

(a) Steps to making a free choice

(b) Benefits of Free choice include: natural morals and ethics, being authentic in relationship and radical humility; consideration of all points of view, options and suggestions

Exercise: Making a free choice

⁷ Like this to be with the information on Reaction rather than in its own chapter (Chapter 10) on Applying Skillful Means, and can be cross referenced

⁸ Use the section headings to introduce the overall benefits

Chapter 8 Sharing direct experience: Guiding Principle

- (a) Our words matter – Language constructs the details of experience

STORY:

2) Journey to Sharing Direct Experience⁹ – Radical Listening and Speaking (RLIW)

- (a) Sympathetic listening
- (b) Disapproving listening
- (c) Empathetic listening
- (d) Pure listening and speaking (Peter Fenner – Non-dual Teacher and Therapist Training Book (from <http://www.radiantmind.net/index.php/radiantmind/program-page/themes/#6> – 16Dec13)
- (e) Radical Listening
 - (i) No experience without sensation
 - (ii) The sensation is felt in your body
 - (iii) The sensation/feeling is the experience

Exercise: Different ways to listen (RLIW)

- (f) Benefits of Listening and receiving include: freedom from reactivity, spontaneity, equanimity

3) Radical Speaking (RLIW)

STORY:

- (a) Describe the sensations in your body
- (b) It is just about ourselves
- (c) It cannot be argued with
- (d) That which is true in us, about us, in the moment without interpretation (analysis, judgment or blame)
 - (i) Benefits include: natural affinity and partnership

Exercise: Radical Listening and Speaking (RLIW)

4) Opportunity for transformation

STORY:

- (a) Sharing direct experience in the moment
 - (i) A direct path into clarity and feelings of connection
 - (ii) Radical Love transformation in the moment
 - Honesty in-the-moment + intimacy about our experience (informed by clarity) = a transformation

Exercise: Sharing direct experience

⁹ I really like that Radical Listening and Speaking can be compared –

- 5) Benefits of Direct experience and Opportunity for transformation include: clarity and simplicity, vulnerability, natural learning
- 6) Radical Intimacy (Into-me-see) – the eternal gift of relationship (RLIW)

STORY:

- (a) Fierce compassion with ourselves and others
- (b) Benefits of Radical Intimacy include: natural connection; freedom to share our inherent gifts and talents

Exercise: Speak the unspeakable or write in a journal what you have not yet admitted to yourself about yourself (RLIW)

- 7) Control – sharing from conditioning

STORY:

- (a) Not having the full experience of ourselves
 - (i) Trying to change someone or something without being direct
- (b) The roots and results of control

Exercise: List all the people you are trying to change ... (CFS p. 74)

- (c) Taking care of

Exercise: How do you feel when listening to someone you love who is angry or sad? Describe how you try to make them feel “better”, and how they do that with you. (CFS)

- (d) Control as parents – allowing our children to feel everything
 - (i) Setting clear and consistent limits

Exercise: Discover whether you are controlling yourself or your child ... (CFS)

Chapter 9 Being authentic: Guiding Principle

- 1) Communicating without pretense

STORY:

- (a) Authenticity is undisputed credibility and genuineness
- (b) The shadow self – embracing all of us
- (c) Be authentic by revealing inauthenticity

Exercise: Notice in the moment when you are inauthentic. Be courageous, speak up and change it to the authentic you! You can relax knowing nothing is left unsaid.

- (d) Benefits of Communicating without pretense include: deep understanding and peace; feeling good about ourselves

2) Trust and equality: Living in interdependence

STORY:

- (a) Clarity, fierce compassion and seeing everyone as equal

Exercise: Think of a friend whose life-style you judge. (CFS) Name your judgments. Describe your direct experience. Can you see their point of view as equal to yours?

- (b) Interdependence

- (c) Benefits of Trust, equality and interdependence include: friendship; collaboration and support; generosity; relationships informed by clarity; awareness of consequences locally and globally

3) Awareness of intention: being authentic and clear

STORY:

- (a) Intention (having a purpose in mind)

- (b) Rely on clarity to see intention

Exercise: Detecting intention

- (c) The source of confusion – words, message and intention

(i) Words are less than 10% of any message

(ii) How you are received reveals your intention

(iii) Confusion results from multiple intentions

Exercise:

- (d) Benefits of Awareness of intention include: fear and doubt disappear; synergy

4) Synergy

STORY:

- (a) The whole is greater than the sum of the parts

- (b) Remarkable results: The synergy of Intention, motivation and influence (TPG p. 78)

- (c) Motivation: a reason or incentive to do something

Exercise: Finding your motivation

- (d) Influence: the power to affect something

Exercise: How much influence do you have?

Chapter 10 Applying Skillful Means: Guiding Principle

1) Seeing through reaction¹⁰

(a) Steps to seeing through reaction – see Chapter 6

2) Opening our Heart and Mind: Being Vulnerable

STORY:

(a) Vulnerability (Defenseless “into-me-see”)

(i) Intimacy: talking to someone about what is true about ourselves, and being response-able when we do it

Exercise: Choosing vulnerability in the moment

(b) Benefits include: open-hearted authority; unlimited access to creativity

3) Thinning our conditioning: Expressing our humanity

STORY:

(a) Benefits of thinning our conditioning include: unity; artful seeing; unlimited options

¹¹ Include a “generic” set of the outlines for the Guiding Principles. At the moment this is included as a reference to the latest versions of what we are now using.

In future materials for workshops, I think the numbering of the principles should be removed in all headings and the Guiding Principles appear in the same sequence.
